By the conclusion of your first year of college, you will:

- Make informed educational decisions, seeking and weighing the factors that affect these decisions.
- Seek and apply in your decision-making credible sources of information regarding university and school requirements, policies, regulations, and procedures.
- Seek and use resources to better understand your academic interests and opportunities.
- Seek and use resources to develop academic skills and resilience needed to succeed at a research university.
- Begin to participate in co-curricular educational opportunities freely available to all students at UC Merced.

Spring Semester Course Planning-
